PILOT WORKBOOK

30-Day Lived-Practice & Encounter-Recording Protocol

Participant ID: _____
Pilot start date: _____ End date: _____

Experience first. Record second. Interpret later.

Where we know, say we know. Where we believe, say we believe. Where we do not know, say we do not know.

Quick Start

This workbook is the field instrument for the first HTERP 30-day lived-practice pilot. The goal is not to produce visions. The goal is to test whether the provisional way of prayer, study, ethical examination, rest, restraint, generosity, and epistemic humility produces good fruits without creating avoidable harms.

- ☐ Complete Day 0 before starting
- ☐ Use the daily page every day
- ☐ Register predictions before outcomes
- ☐ Run Day 30 final evaluation
- ☐ Choose a 30-day start date
- ☐ Record unusual events before interpreting them
- ☐ Complete each 7-day review
- ☐ Do not hide misses or rewrite prior records

The three-record rule

|                   |                                                                                                                                 |
|-------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1. Practice       | What you actually did: prayer, reading, silence, rest, giving, fasting/restraint, service.                                      |
| 2. Experience     | What happened phenomenologically: dream, voice-like thought, sensed presence, coincidence, intuition, emotion, bodily state.    |
| 3. Interpretation | What you think it may mean. Record alternatives and confidence. Interpretation never overwrites the original experience record. |

A successful pilot

A successful pilot does not require supernatural events. It succeeds if it gives reliable evidence about what practices help, what harms, what changes behavior, and how well the framework keeps experience separate from certainty.

Safety & Integrity Rules

- No revelation exemption: A private voice, intuition, prophecy, dream, or vision never overrides child safety, consent, law, medical care, or ordinary moral safeguards.
- No dangerous asceticism: Do not use dehydration, severe sleep deprivation, prolonged fasting, unsafe breath practices, substances, or isolation as part of this pilot.
- Health comes first: Necessary food, sleep, medication, medical treatment, caregiving, and work are not failures of practice.
- Record before confirmation: If something seems predictive or informational, write it down before searching, asking others, or checking whether it is true.
- Preserve misses: Do not erase failed predictions, vague impressions, or days when nothing happened.
- No forced certainty: "I do not know" is a valid and often preferred conclusion.
- Escalate distress safely: If unusual experiences involve danger, inability to function, severe sleeplessness, paranoia, or commands to harm yourself or others, prioritize immediate safety and qualified professional support rather than treating the experience as spiritually authoritative.

Fasting pilot

The optional weekly daylight fast is a practice test, not a purity test. Anyone for whom fasting may be unsafe should use a non-food restraint or service practice instead. Children do not perform the adult fast.

My safety constraints / adaptations
List medications, work/care obligations, fasting adaptations, accessibility needs, or other constraints relevant to safe participation. You may leave health details private and simply record the needed adaptation.

Workbook Map

| Section            | Purpose                                                                                |

| Day 30             | Final evaluation and Practice v0.2 decisions.                                          |
| Appendix A         | Full unusual-experience record.                                                        |

| Appendix C         | Hidden-target exploratory trial sheet.                                                 |
| Appendix D         | Epistemic status and scoring guide.                                                    |

The pilot rhythm

|                                                 |                                                       |
|-------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------|
| <input type="checkbox"/> Dawn orientation       | <input type="checkbox"/> Reading                      |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Silence                | <input type="checkbox"/> Ethical intention            |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Midday recollection    | <input type="checkbox"/> Evening examen               |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Weekly sacred interval | <input type="checkbox"/> Weekly service/giving review |

Default weekly sacred interval for the prototype: Friday sunset through Saturday sunset. This is a pilot convention, not a final doctrinal ruling.

Day 0 - Baseline Snapshot

| Confidence that my current theology is correct            | ___ / 10 |

Day 0 - Current Beliefs & Uncertainties

What I currently believe about God / the Most High / ultimate reality

What I currently believe about Jesus

What I currently believe about Muhammad and revelation

What I currently believe about spirits, angels, ancestors, or noncorporeal intelligences

What I currently believe about death / afterlife

The three questions I most want to leave genuinely open

Day 0 - Current Practice & Expectations

My present religious / contemplative practices

What do I actually do now, how often, and for how long?

My present study habits

What I expect this 30-day pilot might do

What would make me conclude the pilot harmed rather than helped

What would count as meaningful improvement

Do not define success as "I experienced something supernatural." Define success primarily in behavior, ethical repair, attention, health, relationships, and intellectual honesty.

Day 0 - Prediction & Confirmation Bias

Baseline

0 = never/not at all; 10 = extremely/often

| Measure                                                         | Rating    |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| I often have intuitions that later seem predictive              | ____ / 10 |
| I remember hits more easily than misses                         | ____ / 10 |
| I sometimes reinterpret vague impressions after events happen   | ____ / 10 |
| I search for confirming evidence before recording an impression | ____ / 10 |
| I feel pressure to make spiritual experiences mean something    | ____ / 10 |
| I can tolerate an experience having no clear explanation        | ____ / 10 |

Examples of past experiences I currently consider possibly predictive or revelatory
Describe briefly without trying to prove them here.

What evidence would change my mind about one of those experiences

Appendix C - Hidden-Target Scoring

Preferred: rank the true target among several decoys before learning which one is correct.

| Rank | Candidate ID | Match / 10 | Reason before reveal |
|------|--------------|------------|----------------------|
| 1    | _____        | ____ / 10  | _____                |

Appendix D - Epistemic Status Guide

| Status             | Meaning                                                                     |
|--------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| ESTABLISHED        | Supported strongly enough that the workbook may treat it as a working fact. |
| STRONGLY SUPPORTED | Best explanation presently, but meaningful uncertainty remains.             |
| PLAUSIBLE          | Fits evidence and alternatives remain live.                                 |
| POSSIBLE           | Not ruled out; evidence is weak or nondiscriminating.                       |
| OPEN / UNKNOWN     | Current evidence does not justify choosing among live explanations.         |
| UNSUPPORTED        | Claim exceeds available evidence or has failed appropriate tests.           |

Faith / interpretation labels

- R - Research conclusion: supported by HTERP evidence.
- F - Faith postulate: freely adopted but not presented as HTERP proof.
- P - Permitted interpretation: compatible but not required.
- O - Open question: no mandatory answer.

The pilot standard

Intensity is not evidence. Certainty is not evidence. Transformation is meaningful but not source authentication. Predictions become evidential only when recorded before the outcome and scored without rewriting. An unexplained event is not automatically a transcendent event.

Final pilot reminder

Seek what is true; practice what is just and merciful; cultivate humility before what exceeds human knowledge; and revise belief when stronger evidence requires it.
